¼ cup of dried fruit

½ cup of fruit in 100% fruit juice

½ cup of vegetables

1 cup of raw, leafy greens

Building Healthy Traditions

Family, faith, food, music, art, and dance bind together, forming the soul of the African American. We must also weave good health into our fabric of life. The Network for a Healthy California—African American Campaign invites you to take steps to learn about your personal health recommendations and enjoy this cookbook.

Soulful Recipes is full of delicious recipes and tips to help you make eating healthy and being active a part of your family habits. Some recipes are healthy twists on family favorites and some are new foods to try.

You can be a Champion for Change in your family by making new traditions that improve the health of your family. Not sure where to start? Go for the vegetables first. Fill about  $\frac{1}{2}$  of your plate with salad and vegetables and then add other foods. Simple changes to the amounts and types of foods you eat can build good, life-long habits for your family.

African Americans suffer from obesity, type 2 diabetes, hypertension, heart disease, and certain types of cancer more than other groups. You can help to prevent and manage these health problems by eating fruits and vegetables and being active. Start your day off right with a healthy breakfast, and pack healthy snacks and lunches to keep you going during the day. If you eat out, choose menu options that are full of fruits and vegetables or ask for fruit instead of dessert. Back at home, make eating dinner together a priority to stay connected. Studies have shown that families that eat together have better nutrition for the whole family.

Storing Whole Fruits and Vegetables for Better Flavor

There are lots of ways to serve fresh fruits and vegetables. If you need to store them for more than a day before serving, follow the storage guidelines below for the best taste and texture.

COUNTERTOP STORAGE

Many fruits and vegetables should be stored only at room temperature because refrigerator temperatures damage them or keep them from ripening to a good flavor and texture. Produce items that should be stored at room temperature include:

Bananas	Honeydew	Oranges	Watermelon	Eggplant	Pumpkin
Cantaloupe	Lemons	Pineapple	Acorn Squash	Jicama	Spaghetti Squash
Grapefruit	Mangos	Plantains	Butternut Squash	Peppers	Tomatoes

RIPEN ON THE COUNTER, AND THEN STORE IN THE REFRIGERATOR

Some produce items continue to ripen after they are picked. If you don't plan on using fruits for a few days, you can buy them while they are firm and ripen at room temperature for a few days and then store in the refrigerator. Produce items that can ripen in a bowl or a paper bag until they reach the desired softness include:

Avocados	Kiwifruit	Nectarines	Peaches	Pears	Plums

CABINET OR PANTRY STORAGE

Produce items that should be stored in a cool, dry, and well-ventilated place, such as in a cabinet or pantry, include:

Onions	Garlic	Potatoes	Sweet Potatoes
--------	--------	----------	----------------

REFRIGERATOR STORAGE

Use all refrigerated fruits and vegetables within a few days since longer storage causes loss of flavor and nutrients. Keep fruits separated from vegetables in the refrigerator to prevent over-ripening. Produce items that should be stored in the refrigerator include:

Apples	Figs	Bok Choy	Cauliflower	Greens	Radishes
Apricots	Grapes	Broccoli	Celery	Lettuce	Spinach
Berries	Artichokes	Brussels Sprouts	Corn	Mushrooms	Sprouts
Cherries	Asparagus	Cabbage	Green Beans	Okra	Yellow Squash
Cucumbers	Beets	Carrots	Green Onions	Peas	Zucchini

KEEP IT SAFE!

- In the grocery cart and at home, keep produce separated from raw meat, poultry, and seafood.
- At home, store all fresh-cut and ready-to-eat produce in the refrigerator to keep it cold.
- Keep produce stored on the countertop away from direct sunlight to prevent flavor and nutrient loss.
- Signs of spoilage include bad odor, discoloration, mold, and mushy texture.
- Wash all whole fruits and vegetables just before eating, including items with thick skins like melons.

For more information on fruits and vegetables, refer to the Produce Quick Tips at www.cachampionsforchange.net.

Herbs and Spices

What makes food delicious? Flavor. Herbs and spices are key ingredients that add flavor to your food. You can use fresh or dried herbs and spices or try using mixtures to create a variety of tasty new flavors for foods you usually eat.

DID YOU KNOW?

- Herbs and spices are calorie free.
- Using herbs and spices will help you cook with more flavor, using less fat, salt, and sugar.
- Lower the cost of herbs and spices by growing your own in a container or backyard garden.
- Try the “ethnic” food aisle at your grocery store for low-cost bags of dried herbs and spices.
- Use the herbs, spices, and mixtures below to add flavor to your dishes:

Desserts

Allspice

Cinnamon

Ginger

Nutmeg

Vanilla

Savory

Basil

Cumin

Garlic

Oregano

Rosemary

Sage

Thyme

Spicy

Breakfast Recipes

Spotlight On: Calcium

Activities like jumping rope, jogging, or even walking also help your body turn calcium into strong bones.

Calcium is a mineral that is important to the overall health of your body. For most people, dairy foods are the major source of calcium in the diet. However, some fruits and vegetables also contain calcium such as, collard greens, spinach, broccoli, and calcium-fortified 100% orange juice.

BENEFITS OF CALCIUM:

- It helps to build and maintain strong bones.
- It may help lower the risk of high blood pressure.
- It helps your muscles contract and heart to beat.

TRY THIS!

- For breakfast eat a cup of lowfat yogurt with fruit.
- Eat a spinach salad with two tablespoons of lowfat salad dressing for lunch.
- Make smoothies with calcium-fortified 100% fruit juice or yogurt.

DO YOU HAVE DISCOMFORT AFTER DRINKING MILK OR EATING DAIRY PRODUCTS?

If you do, you may have lactose intolerance. If you have problems digesting milk and other dairy products, try smaller amounts with meals, lactose-free milk, natural aged or ripened cheeses such as Swiss and Cheddar, or yogurt with active cultures. Always consult your physician to be sure you have lactose intolerance.

Strawberry Smoothie

A cool start to your active day or an afternoon pick-me-up.

Makes 3 servings.

1 cup per serving.

Prep time: 10 minutes

INGREDIENTS

- ½ cup 100% orange juice
- 1 large banana, peeled and sliced
- 1 cup fresh or frozen strawberries, thawed
- 1 cup lowfat vanilla yogurt
- 5 ice cubes

PREPARATION

1. Combine orange juice, banana, and half the strawberries into a blender container. Blend until smooth.
2. Add yogurt, remaining strawberries, and ice cubes. Blend until smooth. Serve immediately.

Spotlight On: African American Cuisine

For centuries, African American cooks have lovingly prepared family meals using the ingredients available from their gardens. Farming traditions, both in the United States and the African homelands, made local fruits and vegetables the main ingredients in the foods served at home. Now more than ever, African Americans need to regain that tradition. Cooking with fruits and vegetables not only improves the health of African Americans, but ensures that this culinary heritage continues.

Boston Organization of Nutritionists and Dietitians of Color (BOND) was formed in 1995 by African American and Afro Caribbean nutritionists and dietitians in the Greater Boston area. Its mission is to support healthy eating and wellness in minority communities. BOND also mentors and encourages fellow professionals to support future minority students to enter the fields of nutrition and wellness.

Spotlight On: Dancing

Dance has always been part of African culture, connecting families to cultural traditions, expressing emotions from faith to joy, and simply celebrating good times. Dancing can get your whole body moving. You can sway to the music in a slow flow or pick up the pace for a high energy dance groove. No matter what age or stage of life you are in, dancing can be a daily practice. Dancing is physical activity and you can reap the benefits of being active while having fun by yourself or with family and friends.

BENEFITS

- Dancing can help build cardiovascular and muscle strength.
- The more you dance and move your body the more calories you burn, helping you to lose weight or keep it off.
- Dancing lowers stress and boosts your energy to help you make it through your week.
- It lowers blood pressure and the risk for heart disease.

TRY THIS!

- You can dance wherever you are, no equipment necessary, just turn on your favorite music and go.
- Dance your way to fitness. Move around the house to the beat as you do your household cleaning like vacuuming, dusting, or washing and putting away clothes.
- Check your local community center for a dance class. Learn hip-hop moves, jazz dance, line dancing, gospel aerobics, or traditional African dance.

Spotlight On: Blackeye Peas

Blackeye peas originated in Africa and are one of the most ancient vegetables. Although they are a Southern favorite, more blackeye peas are grown in California than in any other state.

One cup of cooked blackeye peas is an excellent source of fiber, iron, vitamin K, thiamin, folate, and magnesium. One cup of cooked blackeye peas is also a source of zinc and potassium.

Blackeye peas are just one example of the many African American Southern style foods that are jam-packed with nutrients but often cooked in an unhealthy way. Enjoy the natural flavors of your blackeye peas, greens, sweet potatoes, squash, and okra with the delicious and healthy recipes found in these pages.

Main Dish Recipes

Spotlight On: Sunday Dinner

Southern Fried Chicken. Collard Greens. Blackeye Peas. Cornbread. Sweet Potato Pie. When you think of these foods, you may think of grandma cooking in her kitchen on Sunday. Sunday dinner is a big part of African American culture. It brings families home for more than just eating soul food. It is a time when families come together to enjoy cooking, sharing stories, and playing games.

Families today are still getting together for Sunday dinner. But, mothers are changing the way they make 'grandma's' recipes. Today, many African American moms know that there is a link between what we eat and why so many of us suffer from serious health problems like obesity, type 2 diabetes, heart disease, stroke, and certain types of cancer.

Moms are taking control of their kitchens and their communities. They are talking with their friends, store owners, and community leaders about getting healthy food in their neighborhoods. They are changing their way of cooking soul food, just enough, so that it is still delicious – just healthy.

Try the meals on the right for your next Sunday dinner. They are healthier versions of traditional favorites that taste great. All you have to add is love and care to make them special to your family. Be a Champion for Change in your family. Inspire healthy change with the foods you cook and the stories you share at the dinner table.

Oven Fried Catfish with Stir-Fry Greens

This tasty twist on a traditional dish will have your family asking for more.

INGREDIENTS

nonstick cooking spray	1½ cups cornmeal
1 pound catfish fillets, cut into 6 equal pieces	1 teaspoon vegetable oil
4 teaspoons Soulful Seasoning (see recipe on page 34)	¼ cup chopped onion
½ cup egg substitute	2 cloves garlic, finely chopped
	1 pound collard greens, chopped

PREPARATION

1. Place an oven rack on the bottom level of the oven. Preheat oven to 400°F.
2. Spray a baking sheet with nonstick cooking spray.
3. Sprinkle both sides of fish with Soulful Seasoning.
4. Dip fish into egg substitute and roll in cornmeal.
5. Arrange fish on a baking sheet so that the pieces do not touch. Bake for 20 minutes.
6. Reduce heat to 350°F and bake until crust is golden and fish flakes easily, about 5 minutes more.
7. While the fish is baking, heat oil over medium heat in a large skillet.
8. Sauté onion and garlic until tender, about 3 to 5 minutes.

6. Sauté garlic in oil for about 3 minutes. Add zucchini, yellow squash, and oregano; continue to cook until tender, about 5 to 7 minutes.
7. Serve each piece of chicken with 1 cup of zucchini and yellow squash mixture.

Spotlight On: California Greens

Collard greens date back to prehistoric times and are one of the oldest members of the cabbage family. Collards are also known as tree cabbage. They are a cool-season vegetable, and are rich in vitamins and minerals that help prevent and fight disease.

Today, many varieties of greens --beet, chard, collard, kale, mustard, turnip-- continue to be a traditional staple in African American culture offered at potlucks, picnics, parties, and family dinners.

One cup of cooked greens is an excellent source of vitamin A, vitamin K, vitamin C, fiber, and calcium. Depending on the type of greens, one cup can also be a source of folate, iron, magnesium, potassium, riboflavin, vitamin B6, and vitamin E.

Cornbread with Spicy Blackeye Peas

Serve with Oven Fried Chicken for a family dinner.

INGREDIENTS

6 cups water	¼ cup vegetable oil
1½ (16-ounce) package frozen blackeye peas	1 cup lowfat buttermilk
1 cup cornmeal	1 cup frozen corn, thawed
1 cup all-purpose flour	nonstick cooking spray
¼ cup sugar	1 medium onion, chopped
1 tablespoon baking powder	2 cloves garlic, finely chopped
1 egg, beaten	1 jalapeño pepper, seeded and chopped (optional)

PREPARATION

1. Place an oven rack in the middle of the oven. Preheat oven to 425°F.
2. In a medium-size pot, bring water to a boil over high heat.
3. Add blackeye peas and return to a boil. Lower the heat to medium and simmer for 30 minutes.
4. While the blackeye peas are cooking, mix cornmeal, flour, sugar, and baking powder in a medium bowl.
5. Add the egg, oil, buttermilk, and corn to the flour mixture. Mix ingredients until just blended (there may be a few small lumps).
6. Spray a 9 x 9-inch square pan with nonstick cooking spray.
7. Pour the batter into the pan.
8. Bake 20 to 25 minutes or until a wooden toothpick inserted in the center comes out clean.
9. As the cornbread continues to bake, drain the blackeye peas and keep half a cup of cooking water.

Swiss Chard Pinwheel Bread

Discover the rich flavor of Swiss chard or use your favorite kind of greens.

INGREDIENTS

nonstick cooking spray	1/8 teaspoon salt
2 1/2 cups (about 6 ounces) sliced mushrooms	2 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese
1/4 cup chopped onion	1 (10- to 13-ounce) can refrigerated pizza crust dough
4 cups (about 12 ounces) chopped Swiss chard	3/4 cup shredded part-skim Mozzarella cheese
1 tablespoon water	1 1/2 cups marinara sauce
3/4 teaspoon garlic powder
1/8 teaspoon ground black pepper

PREPARATION

1. Place an oven rack in the middle of the oven. Preheat oven to 350°F.
2. Spray a skillet with nonstick cooking spray and heat over medium heat.
3. Add mushrooms and onion and sauté until tender, about 5 minutes.
4. Add Swiss chard and water. Continue cooking until Swiss chard becomes tender, about 8 to 10 minutes (you may need to add another tablespoon or more of water if the Swiss chard sticks to the skillet).
5. Add the garlic powder, ground black pepper, and salt.
6. Remove the skillet from the heat and stir in Parmesan cheese. Set the skillet aside to cool.
7. On a lightly floured board or surface, roll out pizza dough into a 10 x 14-inch rectangle.

Spotlight On: Fresh, Frozen, Canned

Fresh, frozen, and canned fruits and vegetables are all good options that can make eating fruits and vegetables year-round easier to do. Buy fresh fruits and vegetables in season when they are cheapest to help stretch your food dollars. However, winter months are limited in the variety of fruits and vegetables that are available at low prices. Frozen and canned fruits or vegetables packed in their own juice can be an inexpensive and time-saving way to stay on track with eating the recommended amount of fruits and vegetables every day throughout the year.

BENEFITS

- Research shows that recipes made with frozen or canned fruits and vegetables have similar nutritional values to those made with fresh fruits or vegetables.
- Canned fruits and vegetables are “cooked” prior to packaging, so they are recipe ready.
- Frozen fruits and vegetables require little preparation—washing and slicing, is already done.
- Most frozen and canned fruits and vegetables are processed within hours of harvest, so they keep their flavor and nutritional value.

TRY THIS!

- Substitute frozen or canned fruits and vegetables for fresh fruits and vegetables in recipes.
- Try microwaving vegetables or buying pre-cut fruits and vegetables to save time.
- Read food labels to avoid canned and frozen foods that are high in salt, sugar, and other unwanted ingredients.

Snacks & Desserts

Spotlight On: California Sweet Potatoes

Fresh sweet potatoes are delicious, and their flavor blends well with herbs, spices, and flavorings. Whether sliced, diced, shredded, mashed, or served whole, their bright orange color jazzes up any plate.

Sweet potatoes with orange flesh are often called yams but they are not the same! Sweet potatoes are roots (like carrots) that are native to Central America and Peru, while true yams are tubers (like potatoes) that are native to Africa and can grow to be over 50 pounds.

It is believed that the confusion started in 1930 when growers began calling a new type of orange flesh sweet potato the Louisiana Yam to set it apart from the common white flesh sweet potato.

One medium sweet potato is an excellent source of vitamin A and a source of fiber, vitamin B6, and potassium.

Spotlight On: Family Reunions

Families have many activities to choose from when planning a reunion, but the traditional barbecue at the park is an all time favorite. No matter what type of gathering your family chooses, chances are food will play a big role in the celebration. Reunions are a good time to try new, healthy dishes and teach loved ones how to lead healthier lifestyles, such as eating colorful fruits and vegetables and being active every day.

BENEFITS

- Eating healthy and being active are key to preventing and managing type 2 diabetes, high blood pressure, heart disease, and keeping a healthy weight.
- Making healthy food choices as a family helps build lasting habits that can protect the health of family members for many years to come.
- Introducing relatives to small changes in diet and physical activity can make a big difference in their lives and help them stay on track at family gatherings.

TRY THIS!

- Serve fruit salads and grilled vegetables at picnics and barbecues.
- Start a healthy recipe contest to encourage loved ones to try new dishes. Give everyone copies of the top recipes.
- Organize activities such as group walks, games, or sports to inspire loved ones to be healthier throughout the reunion.
- Dance - form a dance line or do the electric slide. Younger family members can join in and teach other family members current dance steps.
